

The Gunge. Bagpipe - way.

Handwritten musical score for "The Gunge" on a violin. The score consists of six systems, each with a melodic line and a rhythmic line. The melodic lines are written in a shorthand notation using letters (a, c, e, f, h) and accidentals (sharps, naturals). The rhythmic lines use vertical stems with flags to indicate note values. The score includes various musical markings such as "f" (forte), "ff" (fortissimo), and "2" (second ending).

Remember to strike they be linked together in one continued motion of the Bow: strike your right hand in y<sup>e</sup> motion evenly and lightly as if you were drawing the Bow on the strings: for so it will goe more sweetly in this Gunge: and this Tuning doth require many notes to be strooke in one Bow for the most parte, to make it sweete.

This markke denoteth a Bristle, where ever you see it put:

A Bristle is the small moving of a finger on a stringe ~~in a~~ to make the sound will be better to the eare.
